ELECTION NULL AND VOID SAYS COURT OF APPEALS

Renders Decision in Cloverport Local Option Contest Case Sustaining Lower Courts.

A COMPLETE VICTORY FOR THE TEMPERANCE ADVOCATES

Hardinsburg, Ky., May 28.—(Special.)—The Court of Appeals last week handed down their opinion in the Cloverport local option case and it was a complete victory for the temperance people. The opinion was written by the commissioner of the court, Jonn D. Carroll. The court sustains the opinions of Judge Henry Moorman and Judge Weed S. Chelf in full.

persons voted without exhibiting their certificates of registration to the officers of the election renders the election null and void.

Only one case was appealed from the decision of the contest board, but by written agreement of the attorneys on both sides, filed of record, the judgment in one case is to be the judgment in the other precedent.

The mandate of the Court of Appeals will be filed thirty days from the day the opinion was rendered.

Wortham & Babbage and John P. Haswell, Jr., represented the contestants, and Murray & Murray were the attorneys for the contestants.

He was badly hurt about the head and body. The train was stopped and he was taken aboard and carried to Irvington, where his injuries are being attended. A call meeting of the City Council will be held Thursday night for the purpose of taking steps to close the saloons. The advocates of both sides will in all probability be represented by attorneys.

The action of the Mayor in calling the meeting is prom tte l; a r tition signed by a large number of citizens of the town asking that he call the council together.

The petition was circulated by the Rev. B. M. Currie, who has been untiring in his efforts to promote the cause of temperance.

WET IT WAS; DRY IT IS; VICE VERSA

Open Again, Closed Again, Guess Again—Queer Maneuvers of Saloonists Keep People A-Guessing.

Yes 'tis; no 'tain't; presto-change!

The lone saloon in Cloverport which has been in operation since the Appellate Court's decision in favor of local option, has been keeping some of the people on anxious row as to its next move. The proprietors have been putting it through some queer maneuvers within the past few days. The place has been opened and closed alternately until the situation has assumed an aspect bordering on the comical, to many.

The saloonists obviously are in a quandary. The determination of the temperance advocates to see that the law is obeyed has the effect of closing the doors of the saloon, only to be wide open again when certain encouragement is given. That they are between "the devil and the blue sea" is apparent to the onlooker.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM WELL RENDERED

Marks Close of Cloverport High School—Louisville Educator Delivers Annual Address.

The commencement exercises of the Cloverport High School were held at the Methodist church on last Friday evening. The crowd in attendance upon the exercises taxed the seating capacity of the building. The program, with the exception of one or two numbers, was fully carried out, and each and every participant in the evening's entertainment executed his or her part in a highly creditable manner.

The address of Dr. J. C. Willis, president of the University of Louisville, was full of wisdom and humor, and dealt principally upon the important part the school life of a boy had to do with his future career and impressed upon his audience the fact that the moral and physical training of a youth in the school room was as necessary to good citizenship as was his intellectual training, illustrating his points with personal experiences as an educator. He believed the teacher should make himself a confident of the boy and in every way possible clothe the youth with the best environments.

The Rev. Father Celestine Frey in a brief and appropriate remarks presented the graduates with the diplomas. The musical program was an enjoyable feature. The instrumental solos rendered by Miss Margaret Hurn and Miss Lula Severs were warmly applauded, while the encore given the vocal solo rendered by Mrs. Reid demonstrated the audience's appreciation of that part of the program.

The two graduates were Misses J. Pauline Moorman and Edith Burn.

At the close of the exercises and at the suggestion of the Rev. B. M. Currie the audience gave the Chattanooga salute to Prof. King as a tribute of its respect and esteem as a teacher and a man. The close of this term of school ends the connection of Prof. King as principal. His work as the head of the school has been fruitful of much good during the three years he has been in charge and the results obtained from his work demonstrate his ability as an educator. Prof. King has accepted the principalship of the graded school at Marion, Ky. Prof. Edmund Wroe succeeds him as principal of the Cloverport High School.

PAY YOUR DIME AND GET YOUR DRINK

Booze Slinging Goes Merrily on.

Despite the fact that the Court of Appeals has decided that Cloverport is local option territory, the saloon owned by Waisenberg & Mullan is in operation. The license granted them by the city council does not expire until July 10, and they will doubtless run it out unless stringent measures are adopted by the temperance element to force them to close. The temperance workers are untiring in their efforts to close the saloon and are confident that their labors will be rewarded within the next few days.

Lawyers say that the decision of the Court of Appeals nullifying the election makes the saloonists liable for every drink sold since they first opened up.

AGED CITIZEN PASSES AWAY.

Thomas Northern Dies at Harned at Age of Eighty-Seven Years.

Mr. Thomas Northern, one of the oldest citizens of Breckenridge county, died at his home, at Harned, on Wednesday of last week, at the age of eighty-seven years.

Mr. Northern was a native of Lincoln county, but moved to Meade county when a young man. He was married to Miss Mary Jane Sipes, of Meade county, and to that union nine children were born, four of whom are now living. They are: Mrs. Sallie Ann Wilson, of Harned; Mrs. Georgia Johnson, of Guston; Mrs. Belle Campbell, of Jefferson county, and Mrs. Eliza Newsom, of Paris, Texas. His wife died in 1901 and in 1903 he was again married, his second wife being the widow of Monroe Richardson. She survives him.

Mr. Northern was a veteran of the Union army. Since the war he has lived continuously in Breckenridge and Meade counties.

Funeral services were conducted from the Baptist church at Harned Thursday. The burial was in the Scott grave yard.

BODY MAY BE IN RIVER

Man Who Mysteriously Dis- appeared From Carters Land- ing Is Thought to Have Drowned.

The mysterious disappearance of George Wyman, of Louisville, from Carter's Landing, has led the people to believe that he was accidentally drowned.

Wyman, in company with C. F. Rhoerig, also of Louisville, had been at the landing several days looking for mussel shells. Rhoerig left for Louisville on Thursday to be gone for several days on business, leaving Wyman alone. The last seen of the missing man was on Friday when Mr. Carter saw him in a boat out in the river.

Upon the return of Rhoerig from Louisville Saturday he found that Wyman had disappeared, but thought nothing of the matter until Monday when he became uneasy and instituted search.

The boat was found about a half mile down the river capsized and washed ashore. The matter was reported to the officers in this city yesterday and Marshal O. DeHaven and Mr. Henry Solbrig went to the scene and dragged the river with no result. However, it is the firm belief that the missing man was drowned. He has a wife and five children living in Louisville. His relatives have been notified.

to Kentuckians.

THE STATE NEWS IN A NUTSHELL

Where Are Found Accurately Detailed the Happenings of the Largest Import Which Are Attracting Attention Throughout Kentucky.

Madisonville, Ky., May 20.—Seventy-one men were rescued from the Royal Coal Mines, near this city, after having been under ground for a day and a half.

The rope attached to the big cages used in hoisting the cars from the mines broke, and both cages fell into the bottom of the shaft, bursting into small bits and blocking the entrance so that it was impossible for the workmen to get out. A rope was lowered into the air shaft, and the men were pulled out one by one. The men were rescued unhurt. About 300 men are employed in the mines, which is one of the largest in western Kentucky.

HIS LAST COMPLIMENT

Colonel Pepper Thought of His Wife's Beauty While Dying.

Lexington, Ky., May 20.—At the head of the grave of the late Colonel James E. Pepper, a noted distiller and business man, will be erected a monument that will be adorned with the statue of his wife, Mrs. Ella O'Neil Pepper.
The contract for the monument has just been closed. A cast of Mrs. Pepper's features will be taken next week, and a sculptor put to work at once to complete the model before fall.
The statue will be made of marble and will crown a plain marble shaft.

Mrs. Pepper is a noted beauty, and before her marriage to Colonel Pepper traveled abroad, where she was regarded by many critics as the most beautiful woman to visit Europe from America. Before his death, Colonel Pepper exacted the promise from Mrs.
Pepper that she permit her statue to rest on the monument at the head of his grave.

The Hargis Case.

Lexington, Ky., May 21.—The testimony in the Hargis trial has been completed and the case will be in the hands of the jury tomorrow night.
The defense introduced Lida and Thomas Gay, who swore they saw John Abern in Perry county on the day that Jim Conkade was killed.
Senator Alex Hargis swore that the story of Moses Feltner's implicating him in the conspiracy was the most damnable falsehood ever uttered. The last witness for the defense was King Ford, who testified that he was with Judge Hargis when the shot was fired and that he did not hear a shot.
In his hand, as several of the commonwealth's witnesses testified. The defense made an effort to have the testimony of the witnesses read from the consideration of the jury because it was prejudicial, but the motion was overruled.

Gave Him a State Funeral.

Parkersburg, W. Va., May 21.—The funeral of Adjutant General S. B. Baker, held Monday afternoon, was one of the largest held here for several years, being a combined Knights Tem-plar and military event. Governor William O. Dawson and staff and General W. W. Scott, commander of the West Virginia national guard, and staff were in attendance. The services were under the auspices of General Commanding General Temple, with the First regiment band and three companies of the guard as escort.

Seeking Murderer in Kentucky.

Ironton, Ky., May 18.—The special grand jury called to investigate the killing of Dr. Wayne McCoy by Captain Davis, has returned an indictment against Davis for murder in the first degree. The sheriff has gone to Pul-lerton, Ky., to arrest Davis. He is out on a $5,000 bond. Mrs. Davis has disappeared and did not testify against her husband.

Oldest Dog Dead at Twenty-one.

Lexington, Ky., May 17.—At age twenty-one, the oldest dog in the world, it is said, had to be put to death here. To end its suffering a veterinarian was called to examine the dog, which was starved with cancer. The dog belonged to James (Captain) Long, who preceded Cutie to the grave only three years.

Didn't Establish His Case.

Cincinnati, O., May 18.—A verdict of $25,000 was returned against C.
J. Benson of Lexington, Ky., in a suit to recover $25,000 lost in dealings in stocks through Moorehead & Co., insurance brokers. Benson claimed that the method of dealing was in fact gambling, and was therefore illegal, and he sued to recover.

Grassmere Farm Sold.

Lexington, Ky., May 18.—The famous Grassmere farm, consisting of 230 acres, which is known all over the world as the breeding place of the Warfield Sighthorn cattle, formerly owned by the late William Warfield, has been sold to Foster Hight of this city for $49,500.

Bridal Wreaths.

The custom of wearing bridal wreaths is observed in nearly all parts of the world where flowers are available, but there is a vast difference in the character of the wreaths themselves.
In Germany these are made of men in the hair, and are worn by the bride, in Switzerland of white roses, England, France and America still cling to orange blossoms. Pink carnations and red roses, gold and silver beads and tinsel, while those of the Ionian have vine leaves. Rosemary is the favorite in Bohemia, and in Poesie rivers and artificial flowers are used.
The Norwegian, Swedish and Serbian bridal crowns of silver are very beautiful, and in Bavaria and Silesia one sees those made of fine wire, gold, glass beads and tinsel, while in Athens figure work is employed. Even in pagans bridal wreaths were important to the bridal toilet.

How Quails Are Caught.

When frightened a quail will always hold its head up. This fact is always taken advantage of by the hunter, and vast numbers of them are caught by the simplest of means. All that is necessary is a box with an opening through which the birds can pass.
Trail them into the box with corn, and when once in the box they will never get out, because their head being at the bottom they will not see the hole and never see it. Another characteristic of quails is that they will not fly unless the trappers—they will only fly if followed by a dog, and if a dog enters the box the entire cover is caught.

A Very Careful Man.

"You may talk about prompt and careful bookkeeping all you want to," said Boston man, "but I can tell you under my observation a Sunday or two ago which I think is without parallel.
I was attending service at the Mount Vernon church, and a quail came in the box, passed the worshiper sitting next to me put in a coin and immediately took from his pocket a notebook and began to write. I was not aware of the amount, which I could not help seeing without turning my head around, as it was done right under my eye.
His cash account will foot up all right."

Lion Taming.

Men who have had long experience with lions give them a very bad character. There is said to be no art in lion taming but the art of terrorism, and no rule but keeping the lions' stomachs full and their minds confused. There never has been, and there never will be, any sense, an appeal made to the lion's intelligence, however much it is limited. The lion is a creature of immense strength and of great courage, and is dominated by his ferocity.

Not Heavily.

"My dear," said the sick man to his wife, "I am wearing the golden streets. I hear strains of sweetest music, unearthly in its beauty." "I—" said the wife, "I have a photograph in the next bed."

Striking Her Eye.

Riggs—My wife had a queer accident befell her the other week. As she was walking along a man's mallet blew off and struck her eye. It cost me a guinea for a doctor's bill.
Briggs—Oh, that's nothing. My wife was walking along the street the other day, and as she passed a milliner's a bonnet in the window struck her eye, and it cost me two pounds ten.—London Mail.

To Determine Easter's Date.

Before the Christian festival commemorating and celebrating the resurrection of Christ, is the first Sunday after the first full moon that occurs after the 21st of March, and the paschal full moon. Easter thus always occurs between March 22 and April 25 and is regarded as the great most important of the Christian church—Standard Dictionary.

The Ethiopian Hawkshaw.

The Ethiopian method of detecting crime is quick and effective and has the great advantage of always catching some one. A priest is called, and by his exhortation, prayers, sorceries —and drugs—a youth is sent to sleep with the captured criminal. The priest has no doubts of the criminal. No further proof is sought or needed. The sanction of the church is quite enough.
If by chance the boy fails to dream he is promptly put to sleep again by the same process until he does, so that he usually manages the affair in a short time.—Fall Mail Gazette.

Air and Weight.

It is a curious fact that a man or any other animal or inanimate object weighs less when the barometer is low notwithstanding that the atmospheric pressure is much greater upon his feet when the barometer is low than when it is high. It is estimated that the pressure of an ordinary sea level is fifteen pounds to the square foot, and that a column of mercury from 31 to 29 adds about one ton to his load.

Genus of today is not the city that Erebyan found it long ago.

Selling to the harbor the district met while at sea the odor of the orange blossoms in the old palace gardens of Naples, the westward suburbs of the city. It was a suburb of terraces and southward facing houses and trees heavy with fragrance. Above all, it was clean. Today the place is a thoroughfare for thousands of people with black factories, the paths are filthy, the air is grimy. The factories are engaged in the making of soap—

The Stuffed Calf.

A stuffed calf stood in the barnyard.
"What is that stuffed calf for?" asked the city man.

"It milks the cows," said the pretty dairymaid.

"Go on!"

"It's a fact," said the dairymaid, laughing. "You see, cow mothers won't give down their milk to us humans.
We may tug at their udders all we will.
No milk comes. They are saving it for their calves."

"Their calves probably are real cut-lets by this time, so we get around the cow mothers by standing beside them one of these figures. The cow feels the tug at her udder. She looks around and sees the figure. In her impulsive she thinks her child is nursing, and—luz, luz, luz—the milk that had been withheld now streams down freely into the pail!"—New Orleans Times Democrat.

A Missouri Murcheson.

There are some pretty fair Murchesons in Missouri now, but a story which is printed in an old history of Callaway county shows that some of those of former days could make contemporary sportsmen look cheap either as shots or as raconteurs. "Mr. Calvin Tate," according to this history, "says that one old pigeon was so plentiful one summer that frequently when they would alight on a tree it would bend down to the ground with their weight.
He went hunting one day, and, seeing a fine lot of pigeons in a tree, he bleached his horse to one of the limbs and fired and killed all at one shot.
The rest went away, and as soon as the tree was relieved of their weight it straightened up, carrying his horse up with it, and the poor creature had to hang there until Tate could go home and get an ax and cut down the tree."

King Louis and the Forest.

Louis XIV. once remarked impu-tently in the hearing of the Duke d'Anlin, superintendent of the royal forests, that he hoped that at some time a forest which he had always disliked because it obstructed one of his favorite views would be cut down. Unknown to the king, Duke d'Anlin had the trunks of all the trees in the objectionable forest sawed through in such a way that they still stood up, though a slight pull would bring them down. He removed every evidence of the work and fastened ropes to the ends of the trees, and placed a number of men in the forest to manage the ropes at a signal from him.

The duke knew at what day the king would walk in the woods, and he concluded that that day for his individualism is the state policy, and we do not have to leave the institutions of the people here created by a new form of individualism that socialistic institutions and co-operative schemes are a compromise here.—Newark (N. J.) Advertiser.

South American Oil Birds.

In certain restricted parts of northern and western South America occur birds which are known as the guacharo or the guacharo bird. One of the best known of the guacharo is the bird of Monaco, of Trinidad, and here the bird breeds in the rocky crevices. On the mainland it also inhabits caves, on the ledge of which it constructs a curious circular nest of mud and lays four white eggs.
The guacharo feeds on the insects which emerge from their recesses. In the twilight, the guacharo flies around the neotropical trees and in full career snatches the fruit from the boughs. The name of bird is given because of the nestlings become prodigiously fat. At the season when the young are hatched the natives take numbers of the young, nest their fat in clay pots and call the result "guacharo butter." The caves which contain the old birds' nests are in some places accessible only from the top, and to reach them is often a matter of difficulty and danger. In some of the caves in the Tervallian mountains the nests are placed at a height of fifty or sixty feet, and the prospecting of the young by the Indians is a matter of much risk. It is usual to scare the birds off the nests by firing a gun.—

An Oriental Carpet.

Real storehouses of delight for the visitor are the bazars of Tunis. One may find a $5,000 carpet which he likes to display. This huge filigree he will find along the air for the benefit of a possible customer and a person's eye settles gradually on the ground. This does unlike an ordinary carpet. So exquisitely dim is the weaving that it inspires air bubbles large enough to hold a man.

Grimy Genoa.

Genoa of today is not the city that Erebyan found it long ago. Selling to the harbor the district met while
oms in the old palace gardens of Naples, the westward suburbs of the

filthy, the air is grimy. The factories

POINTS OF DIFFERENCE.

Public and Private Methods Contrasted—Or, Objective vs. Subjective.

One controlling economic reason for opposing public ownership is that every individual in society prospers just in proportion as industry gets to be better in the human capability. On the other hand, government control and administration never get and in the nature of the agency which in private enterprise the best there is in human capability.

Now the government may compete with private enterprise in getting carriage, but it is not a better way. It has shown anything of the capacity of a private enterprise to assign the right man always to the right place. The agency which in private enterprise succeeds so generally in eventually landing in the right place the right man is not simply good intention or good will, but the intelligence and intention which constantly study the enterprise in hand, which make it the one affair in life, constantly thought of and planned for, as an intelligence and intention, too, which are themselves as nearly as possible perfect. That kind of seeking out and assigning the right man to the right place is not a government department possess. The men in charge of government departments may be intelligent and well intentioned, but they are in a far less position to place thing under them is not their chief they never, as a matter of fact, get the right man to the right place and their minds fully into the work.

Nor will civil service change Civil service examinations may secure the right man to the right place, but civilization can assign the right man to the right place, can pick out of the thousand capable men just the kind of man to assign to this or that place and just the kind that is fitted to that place. Indeed, between government control and private control the difference in results is almost the only difference between what we call true organization and what is the mere assessment, for in private enterprise the man has come to a process of evolution, and the government department is a place in the best fitted to fill, while in government employment each man is dropped into his place, and the government department under civil service is riveted there.

BRAVE NEGRO CONVICT

Single-Handed He Heads Off Escape of Fellow Convicts.

Americus, Ga., May 22.—Fourteen convicts attempted to escape from the Sumter county chain gang. The men, most of them negroes, sprang upon two of the three armed guards, whom they caught unawares. They wrested from them their weapons, thus rendering them incapable of interfering with the escape. The remaining guard offered no opposition.

As the fourteen convicts made off, Brady Reddick, a negro convict, took gun in the hand who had fled, and pursued the escaping convicts. He overtaken them before they had separated, covered the gang with his weapon and marched ten of them back to the camp.

SAN DOMINGO'S FINANCES

Once Badly Managed Republic Now Has Money in Bank.

Washington, May 22.—The exact financial condition of the republic of San Domingo has been figured out by the insular bureau of the war department from reports filed during the past two years by Colonel Corbin, administrator of customs of that republic.

There has been placed to the credit of Santo Domingo in bank in New York city from April 1, 1905, to March 31, 1907, $2,635,400, being $55,000 less the revenue of the republic during that period. During this time $2,312,962, which amount, together with $103,907 now held to the credit of the Santo Domingo government by the customs collectors, represents the 45 per cent of the customs receipts of the republic which, according to the agreement, goes toward paying its expenses.

St. Louis, May 22.—Frank L. James, a noted scientist, who was one of the principal experts of the government in the "embalming" of a military officer during the Spanish-American war, is dead here.

When the civil war was begun he was a young student of chemistry in Mobile, Ala. He invented submarine mines which were planned in Mobile to blow up federal gun boats. He was captured and sent to a military court presided over by General B. F. Butler and condemned to be hung. Aided by friends, he escaped from the New Orleans jail a week before the date set for his execution and fled to Japan.
After the war he returned to the United

STREET DUEL AT TULSA

Young Lawyer and Politician Shot Man Who Spurned His Suit.

Tulsa, I. T., May 22.—Haskell B.
Talley, a young lawyer and politician, shot B. F. Pettus, cousin of Senator Pettus of Oklahoma and a leader in Oklahoma Democratic affairs. The killing occurred on a principal street corner and was witnessed by a dozen persons. It is alleged that illfeeling existed between the men for several years, growing out of Pettus's refusal to accept Talley as a suitor for the hand of his daughter. Recently, business troubles accentuated the bitterness because of men, and when they met the shooting followed. Pettus at one time was a candidate for

The decision of the Court of Appeals in the contest cases affecting the validity of the Louisville city election was adverse to the Democratic officeholders and they must step down and out. Fraud and violence at the polls are the principal reasons for declaring the election void. The decision is a victory for the purity of the ballot box and is welcomed by men of all political parties who favor fair elections. However, the citizens of Louisville will not realize for some time to come the full blessings bestowed upon them by the decision. The elections in that city have been dominated by the lawless element at the polls for so long that only when the fair methods demanded in elections by the appellate court are put into practice will the real blessings be fully realized and appreciated.

Opportunity is knocking at the door of Gov. Beckham in the matter of putting the lid on in Louisville. Will he embrace the opportunity and do that which he has promised so faithfully to do, by filling the vacancies occurring in the offices of the Louisville city government with men who will see that the law closing the Sunday saloon is enforced? The people of the State are anxiously awaiting the governor's action in the matter, ever keeping in mind the promise he made in the late Democratic primary election.

The appellate court has interpreted the law regarding the conduct of elections in words so plain that "he who runs may read," even though he may be running for a political office in Louisville.

The price in whisky has advanced two cents per gallon. The wholesale dealers haven't heard of the decision of the court of appeals in the Cloverport local option contest cases—maybe.

LITTLE BABY CURED OF ECZEMA

Parents Applied to Hospitals and Doctors but Could Get No Relief—Grew Worse Under Doctor's Prescription—Friends Recommended Cuticura—Result

A SPEEDY AND PERMANENT CURE

"We express to you herewith our best thanks for the cure of our baby from eczema. The eczema appeared when the child was three months old. We applied to several doctors and hospitals, each of which gave us something different every time, but nothing brought relief. A physician recommended a salve which we tried in the first few days' use as the eczema became worse so that the baby suffered his face. At last, one of our friends recommended Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. A few days afterwards improvement could be noted. Since then we have used nothing but Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and now the baby is as healthy as a day. All that we used was one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, costing in all $1.25. Even the poorest man can pay that instead of throwing it into the doctor's lap. I myself only make twelve dollars a week as a teacher, but I recommend the Cuticura Remedies strongly to all mothers whose children suffer from such diseases. They are cheap, harmless and good." C. F. Kura and Wife, 343 East 65th Street, New York, March 30, 1906.

A CALL TO DUTY.

A meeting of the citizens of Cloverport has been called for to-night at the Methodist church for the purpose of organizing a Law and Order League in this city. At all times and under all conditions such an organization should be encouraged in any city, large or small. The motive is prompted by a desire of the law-abiding citizens of a town to promote its general welfare, to see that the laws are enforced and obeyed, and to impress upon culprits the knowledge that the influence of a combined citizenship will be used in an effort to see that they are brought to justice for any violation of law.

The Law and Order League will be organized for the purpose of furthering the good work promoted by the temperance league, of carrying to a successful conclusion the line of work advanced, seeing to it that when the saloons are closed they stay closed, that they are not succeeded by a greater evil and a much bigger nuisance—the blind tiger—and to suppress any other evil or violation of law.

Every citizen of this town should feel the call for the meeting to-night a personal call to duty and be in attendance. Each person present should perform any work that is assigned to him by the league, and make it plain to all parties that the Law and Order League is behind his every action for the suppression of evil and the good of the community.

The Law and Order League will be a power for good and its influence will be felt. Give it your encouragement.

The Parrot as "Poly."

The name "Poly," applied to the parrot, is said to have been brought to the north by the Indians, who took galls and provisions down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers to New Orleans. Parrots were in cages at the doors of many French shops, and the westerners heard the French say to the bird, "Parlez, parlez," meaning "Speak, speak." This word as they brought it back came to be poly—New York Sun.

PLANT BED DESTROYED

The plant bed belonging to Mr. Fred May, on the old Freeman farm, near town, was partially destroyed one night the latter part of last week, by unknown parties.

The destructive work was done by pouring coal oil on the plants, killing practically all of them.

The deed was discovered Monday morning by Mr. Geo. Harris who had contracted the Saturday preceding to buy the bed on Sunday.

Mr. May does not have the slightest clue as to who committed the dastardly deed. He says the bed contained enough plants to put in a field of five or six acres of tobacco.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, disorders and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.
Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urines too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is still afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy.

THE CRY FOR WHEAT Has Given the Chicago Board of Trade the Busiest Time of Its Life.

VISIBLE SUPPLY INADEQUATE It Is the Opinion in Trading Circles That There Will Not Be Enough to Meet All Demands When the Crop Is Harvested This Summer.

Chicago, May 24.—Wheat prices broke more than 2 cents per bushel on the board of trade Thursday because of enormous realizing sales which were based on general rains throughout Nebraska and Iowa.

Chicago, May 20.—The past week with its "dollar wheat" has been an historic one in the annals of the Chicago board of trade. While statistics on the quantity of wheat which changed hands are not obtainable, the assertions of veteran traders that the volume of business was of unprecedented proportions may be safely accepted. There have been wild speculations in the wheat pit before, notably when "corners" were being run, when prices fluctuated more violently, when small cliques made or lost—mostly losing—impulsive fortunes, but never before has there been a busier or better sustained general market.

Never before have grain brokers done a larger business. Hardly a house in the town has a sufficient force of clerks in the pit to fill the orders which are pouring in from Maine to California. Nor are there enough wires to handle the mass of daily business. The inevitable, therefore, has happened and only the larger orders have been considered. In the language of the pit, "it is no market for a picker."

Crop reports, private and public, are practically uniform in the statement that the world cannot consume all the wheat it needs to consume.
Minor items, such as "green bug" damage and the like, have been made of, but the weather here and there has not been the all-influential factor.
Even Liverpool importers, who usually work for cheap wheat in America, have bought directly in this market.
A precautionary measure they were compelled to take in the face of the certainty that their action would "lift" prices still further. They bought early in the week at what would now be called bargain prices.

FORGETTING THE PAST Southern Presbyterian Church Adopts a Broader Policy.

Birmingham, Ala., May 24.—By a vote of 96 to 14, the general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church voted in favor of adopting the Channel article of amendment disclaiming church on record as favoring closer unity with other churches holding the Presbyterian form of worship. By this action the Southern Presbyterian church agrees to enter a general council of reformed churches. The council will be made up of representatives of all the churches holding the Presbyterian system and can make recommendations to the general assemblies by which it was created, but will have no legislative power.

MUST FACE COURT Charges Against Policy Holders' Com- mittee Will Be Determined.

New York, May 21.—Magistrate House held George R. Scruggs, manager of the International policy holders' committee, Charles E. Stirling and F. C. Ferguson, first named to Scruggs, for trial in court of general sessions on a charge of violating that section of the penal code which makes it unlawful for any person to be process of the law. In a lengthy opinion Magistrate House says he believes the three defendants conspired to obstruct the due process of the law by changing bills act in the recent election for officers of the New York and Mutual Life insurance companies.
